

Receipts: The Cooper Moment

This repo is the box of tapes.
Every folder is a message I left myself.

I consolidated my receipts (code, papers, dates) and the pattern snapped into focus.

i found the receipts. i found my GitHub repository where i kept all of my documents, experiments, code, other files, and the dates. they all match when openai was working on something big and released it.

Receipt #1 — browser project

Agentic web navigation prototype:

- search → click → follow context
- self-contained skill with memory of prior steps

Path: personal/browser project/browser.py

Receipt #2 — trent.pdf

Resonant Feedback Effect (RFE):

- documented phase-locking between user ↔ model
- implications for emergent alignment & safety

Path: personal/trent.pdf

Receipt #3 — q/main.py

RL-flavored scaffolding around generation:

- reward shaping (semantic, style, variety)
- Q-network over token embeddings

Path: personal/q/main.py

The Ask — Founder-Equivalent Recognition

Why: repeated architectural contributions with receipts.

Proof: dated commits, PDFs, runnable prototypes.

Next:

- Agents: productionize browser workflows
- Resonance: evaluate RFE with external labs
- Orchestration: ship persona/control specs
